The museum house at the Loyallist park is a fine building.

Will take some planning to give the atmosphere of Pioneer days.

The scadding cabin at the Canadian National Ex grounds gives a ~~person~~ <sup>person</sup> an idea of what the ~~people~~ <sup>people</sup> had to go through with in living in a log house.

In other words what does

Snowbank Saves Skidding Auto

August Kaiser, Wife and Latter's Grandmother Escape Injury

PICTON, Feb. 17—A car driven by August Kaiser failed to make an icy hill, known as the Rock, four miles from Picton, backed downward and smashed off two poles and a wire before it hurtled down a 14-foot bank. Both Mr. and Mrs. Kaiser and the latter's grandmother, Mrs. Yorke, who were in the car, escaped injury, but the car was badly damaged. The road had been built up and the car crashed through the guards at the side, backing down the steep slope until it crashed into a snowbank and then turned over on its side. The snowbank saved a more serious accident.

Reorganization of the board of Picton Collegiate and Vocational Institute took place last night with Peter Collier being given a second term as chairman. B. R. Leavens was chosen vice-chairman, and Clifford L. Collier retains the office of secretary-treasurer. Chairmen of the various committees are: Property, Dr. Gerald Kinney, Separate School representative on the board; supply, Carson Hubbs, county representative; finance and vocational, Dr. C. S. Slack, Public School representative; Commencement, Carson Hubbs. Other members this year are: Bee S. Welsh and T. W. Kinney, town representatives, and W. H. Benson, county representative.

of Eugene Hicks as

Church. Deceased was one of the oldest residents of the Napanee district. Robert Madden, who was active until his recent fall, was one of a family of seven, a son of William Madden and Elizabeth Wood. He was the last surviving member of the family. His grandfather was among the United Empire Loyalists who came to this portion of the province and erected a home. Mr. Madden was born on the old homestead, half a mile east of the residence of his son, Percy, with whom he had resided for many years. Over half a century ago Mr. Madden moved from the old homestead and purchased a house in close proximity to the present home and assisted in the erection. Mr. Madden was a strong advocate of temperance and had not used tobacco since a young man. In politics he was a staunch Liberal. He was a life-long member of the Methodist (now United) Church and when a young man, sang in the choir of the former Eastern Methodist Church. He was married to Miss Ruth Elizabeth Miller of Bath who died in 1916. He was a life-long farmer but retired from active work about 15 years ago. There are three sons, Percy Madden, Norman Madden and John Madden, the latter of Holcombe, Wash. There is also one daughter, Mrs. Pitts of Hamilton. He also leaves 14 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. Those from out of town who were present for the funeral were Mrs. Pitts of Hamilton, Bruce and Orville Madden of Toronto, Mrs. F. Jackson of Enterprise and Bruce Sandercock of Collins Bay. The pall-bearers were T. M. Asselstine, Steacy Vanalstine, Robert Hodgins, James Wilson, Clarence Conway and Stephen Bennett, all neighbors.

Col. A. P. Deroche Died Saturday, Dec. 2nd 1950

Colonel A. P. Deroche (Ret.) died at Kingston General Hospital, Saturday, December 2nd, after an illness of about two months. He and Mrs. Deroche had been residing in Napanee for the past two years, after Colonel Deroche had retired from the managership of the Dominion Arsenal at Lindsay.

Alexander Pierrepont Deroche was born in Napanee and was the younger son of the late H. M. Deroche, K.C., ex-M.P. and his wife Sarah Pile, of Barbadoes, B.W.I. He attended Napanee schools and after graduating from the Collegiate, attended the Royal Military College in Kingston. Following his graduation from Royal Military College, he joined the Department of National Defence, and lived for several years in Ottawa, where he was O. C. of the 3rd Field Company, before joining the Royal Canadian Engineers of the Permanent Force. During the first World War he was Director-General of the engineering services for the Department of National Defence. Later he joined the Bate-McMahon Construction Company as a junior member of the firm and was Ottawa manager for the firm. During the Second World War he was appointed manager of the Dominion Arsenal at Lindsay, which position he held until two years ago, when he retired and came to Napanee.

In every position which he held he was known as a very kindly gentleman, who did everything in his power to help people who needed his understanding and assistance.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Bessie Campbell Bogart, Napanee, and by one daughter, Mary, (Mrs. A. T. Roger of Hamilton,) and one son, W. A. (Sandy) Deroche, of St. Catharines. He also leaves one sister, Sarah, Mrs. E. Costigan, Toronto; one brother, Judge H. M. P. Deroche of Melville, Manitoba; and two grandchildren, Billy and John Roger, of St. Catharines.

His funeral was conducted by Rev. W. J. Robinson at his late home on Robert Street, and at St. Mary Magdalene's Church on Monday afternoon, Dec. 4th. Interment was in the family plot at Riverside cemetery.

STELLA CLUB REGULAR MEETING

The Stella "Club Girl Entertains" held their second meeting at the home of Mrs. Edward McMullen on Thursday evening, Nov. 23, with seven members present. The meeting opened with the singing of O'Canada led by Mary Adams. Some good suggestions were given for the roll call,
Something I would appreciate in a

Two names were suggested for the Club; the A.I.C. meaning, 'Am I Courteous' or 'Amherst Island Club' and the other was 'Young Homemakers Club'. This was to be decided at the next meeting.

Members discussed entertaining a house-guest; formal and informal invitations and their replies. The girls packed a week-end bag. Flower arrangement was demonstrated again.

The home assignment is to decide the method of filing and purchase of the necessary items.

The meeting closed with the Na-

Byrnes Ansu Says Truma

WASHINGTON — (AP) — James F. Byrnes made a blistering attack on President Truman yesterday, accusing him of playing into Russian hands a wrong statement about the German boundary.

Byrnes, former secretary of state under Mr. Truman, was governor of South Carolina in a Colliers Magazine article. The article was promptly published in the recent issue of the President, of a letter to the President said he had criticized him at the Moscow conference of

Frostbite Case Is Concluded; Verdict Held

PETERBOROUGH — (CP) — An inquiry into the case of a vagrant who suffered frozen feet when escorted out of town in January closed yesterday with Judge F. J. MacRae of Whitby reserving judgment.

"I do not wish to make any comment at this time," said the judge at the end of the one-day hearing. "I will give my report in due course."

The inquiry was instituted by the police and Mayor Hugh Waddell, because of criticism of police in allegedly taking Fred Brant out of town and leaving him on the highway.

Brant, called to the stand as a witness, said: "I don't want to answer any more of your questions." He was one of the 24 witnesses called.

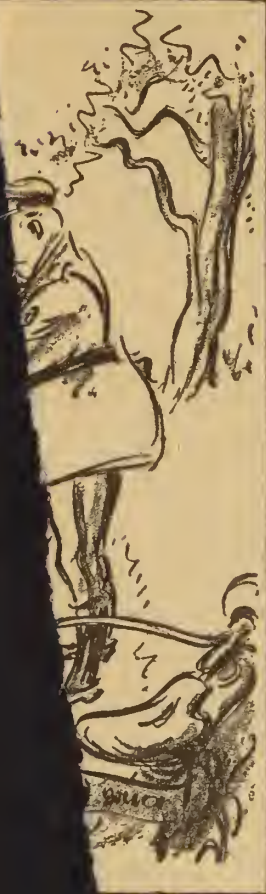

Brant was released from a 10-day vagrancy sentence Jan. 23 and next day was driven five miles out of town and let out of the police car. Brant's sister, Mrs. Irene Higgins of Haliburton said Brant told her his feet felt cold after waiting an hour for a ride to Lindsay.

Arrested again in Peterborough, Jan. 31, he was found to be suffering from severe frostbite on both feet. After six weeks in hospital, all his toes and an inch of each foot were amputated.

WAR DEBTS AND UEL DEBTS

Sir: Your wonderful paper comes to us each day except Sunday; for many years it has been coming and we enjoy it so very much. My husband is so interested in it too, although he is not a native of Canada, and he of course isn't a United Empire Loyalist like I am. I am a direct descendant of Hammel Madden, who was my great-grandfather, and came in those early days and settled near Newburgh. Judge James H. Madden was his grandson, and Judge Ernest Madden was his great-grandson. Judge Hammel deRoche, now retired, but formerly up in Saskatchewan was also a great-grandson, and so is my brother, Judge George deRoche of Toronto (formerly judge of Hastings County for thirty-five years). He is now retired. I am proud of my ancestry and hope I can live up to it.

I get infuriated at talk of the British War debts, when after all this country never even began to fight until the war was almost over, in 1918, so who held the line all those years from 1914 to 1917? I understand the Treaty of Paris provided that the Loyalists were to be paid for their lands, but not one of them ever received a penny. I have a clipping several years old, telling that some twenty billion dollars was due the Loyalists' descendants at that time, so there must be lots more now. However, they can have my share if they will just never again mention "British War debts." I know many people here wouldn't believe me, but I tell it to lots of native Canadians who live here.

We think the Week-End Magazine is very fine, and so was the memorial to King George.

Sincerely yours,
Madelon deRoche Saxon Mill Valley, California.

The Madden Family

Two brothers were born in Ireland, County of Meath, near Dublin. One remained in Ireland and became an English Church clergyman. The other, John, came to America with his wife and settled in Philadelphia some time about 1760 where his first son, Robert, was born. Robert was about twelve years old at the time of the Rebellion. John took his family to Vermont when the Rebellion started and remained there during the war until 1795; when they emigrated to Canada.

They settled in Ontario twenty-three miles west of Kingston, near Napanee. John's children were Robert, James, John, Thomas, William Jane and Betsy (twins)

Robert was very active in the Rebellion. He was a large powerful man six feet in height. He carried despatches from New York to Canada on foot, was taken prisoner and condemned to be hanged, but during the night he knocked the sentinel down, ran through a mill-dam and got shelter in a little log house whose owner luckily was a loyalist. At another time the rebels were chasing him and he hid in a hollow log until they had gone by.

In 1795 Robert married Charity, daughter of Jacob Diamond, who came from Germany.

Their children were

Pie Social, Program Enjoyed At Deseronto

Deseronto. — A pleasant time was had last Friday evening by all who attended the popular annual pie social given by the Evening Association of Deseronto United Church. The program, convened by Mrs. G. R. Barker, assisted by Mrs. W. Neelands and Mrs. L. Tunnicliffe, was excellent, and opened with a talk about Stephen Foster, given by Mrs. Ross Sexsmith.

Two Scotch numbers by Mrs. Stuart McAlister and Herb Aylsworth, were greatly enjoyed.

Ross Piercy sang "Home on the Range" and a ballad of the Sioux Indians, accompaying himself on the guitar, with an introduction on mouth organ, and guitar, played

OBITUARIES

MISS LILLIAN CORA MADDEN

On Thursday, February 5, 1959, there passed away in St. Joseph's Hospital, Toronto, Miss Lillian Cora Madden. Miss Madden was a former resident of Napanee, daughter of Stephen and Jane Madden. The Maddens were well-known residents of the town, where Mr. Madden was a prominent merchant. The family moved to Toronto some years ago.

Miss Madden was a trusted secretary with the Sun and Fire Insurance Co. She had been ill since November.

The memorial service was held in the Earle Elliot Funeral Home on Sunday, January 8, and was conducted by Dr. A. J. Wilson, her minister when the family lived in Napanee, assisted by Rev. Levi Hussey, minister of Centennial United Church, Toronto. Interment was at Riverside Cemetery, Napanee, on Monday, February 9.

There are left to mourn her loss two brothers, Bruce R. Madden, and Orval C. Madden, and one sister, Mrs. Olive Lola Best, of Toronto, and two nephews, Bruce M. Best, of Toronto, and Donald R. Best, of Montreal.

Almon Madden and Percy R. Madden, of Napanee, are cousins.

1955 model, careened out of control on a curve.

It mounted the south shoulder, returned to the pavement for approximately 300 feet and then returned to the south shoulder where it ripped out four guard rail posts and toppled into the creek.

Damage to his auto was estimated at $2,000. The accident was investigated by Constable William Scott of the provincial police.

Bruce M. Saundercook Dies at Collins Bay

NAPANEE (Staff) — Bruce Madden Saundercook, 61, a life long resident of Collins Bay and conservation officer for the department of lands and forests in this district for over 15 years died suddenly Monday morning.

Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Mr. Saundercook, an ardent wildlife and fishing enthusiast, was born at Collins Bay, the son of George Saundercook and his wife, the former Elfa Madden.

He completed 15 years with the department last week. His duties as conservation officer covered Kingston, Pittsburgh, and Ernestown townships and the islands. He took particular interest in the annual pickerel run each spring at the Napanee falls.

He is survived by his wife, the former Bernice Yoeman, two daughters, Mrs. L. Clark (Joan) of Collins Bay, Mrs. B. Bull (Betty) of Brampton, a sister, Mrs. T. H. Sheldon (Lola) of Rochester, Minn., and six grandchildren. He was predeceased by a son Roland during World War II.

Services will be conducted by Rev. Stanley Self of the Strathcona Presbyterian Church at 2 p.m. Wednesday. A memorial service is being held tonight at 8 p.m. by the Prince Albert 228 AF and AM of Odesa. Mr. Saundercook was also an active member of the Shriners Club.

The body is resting at the Cullen Funeral Home in Kingston. Interment will be at Cataraqui Cemetery.

Car Blaze Is Quenched

GANANOQUE (Staff)—Fire, Sunday afternoon, destroyed the front seat of an American car parked at Bay street wharf.

Gananoque fire department halted the blaze with a five-gallon hand pump can. Chief Russell Hampton estimated damage at $100. Cause of the fire is unknown.

The vehicle is owned by Kenneth F. Mills, of Dunmore, Pa., and Island 35.

Saturday evening firemen were called to First and Elm streets on a false alarm. A seven-year-old girl from Sarnia pulled the alarm handle.

THE HIDDEN FAMILY TREE

Two brothers were born in the County of Wexford near Dublin, Ireland.

John came to America with his wife and settled in Philadelphia some time about 1760 where his first son, Robert was born. Robert was about twelve years old at the time of the Rebellion.

The brother who remained in Ireland was an English Church clergyman.

John took his family to Vermont when the Rebellion broke out and remained there during the war until 1795 when they emigrated to Canada.

They settled in Ontario twenty-three miles west of Kingston. Dec 29 48

John's children were Robert, the eldest son, James, John, Thomas, William, Jane and Betsy (twins)

In 1795, Robert married Charity Diamond, daughter of Jacob Diamond who came from Germany.

Robert carried dispatches from New York to Canada on foot. He was very active in the rebellion. He was large powerful man, six feet in height. He was taken prisoner and condemned to be hanged, but during the night he knocked the sentinel down, ran through a mill dam and took shelter in a little log house whose owner luckily was a loyalist. At another time the rebels were chasing him and he hid in a hollow log and heard the men very near the log but they did not find him.

Dear Friend

I promised you some time ago, would try and locate a photo of the Wm. Jamieson. This is a copy, from the original which I have to return to Piton.

Romy I could not get down to Bath and see you before returning. Stopped off at Bellegarde and visited their new library, and took up ~~any~~ <sup>interesting</sup> marmite subjects.

Located a print of the old Walterlily used in the Bay of Quinte trade. Parked in the Piton harbour loading apple barrels. Will make an interesting subject 27" x 36" also the Alexander passenger steamer. Started to paint up the Wm. Jamieson schooner 24 x 30 in a brisk wind main sails with 2 jibs <sup>more</sup> action than the best print also on a harbour scene of the Muir Dry Works at Port Dalhousie 27" x 36" would be around 1876 a freighter of the old style in the foreground "Hlangarry".

Generally work from one subject to the other a chance to relax when doing the small details from dark photos and making them authentic.

Started a while back to work on pen and ink drawings of the bath buildings.
Since working with oils on canvas and in color decided to carry on with the paintings (a one track mind). Would like to be working on the early farm threshing subjects. <sup>historical</sup> C.W. Jefferies told me should be at that line as I know and with the experience around horses and farm work. Visit a blacksmith shop in the city here have two sketches made up but when the doors open in warmer weather a better light in the building to work on the large canvas, only two or three smithies in the city who
sub. wagon tires and shoe horses.
Calucci of the Daguer Museum mailed a print from their Woodbridge file of a scene of the horse sweep, could not make up what equipment used in the barn blocked out with a row of six farms standing in the barn. Rows of horse power six sets or 12 horses on the reel. To bad Taylor at the Adolphus Iron store allows that horse tread mill to rot away.
Expect to go up north for a few days on a sketch and find winter subjects. Color better in March not bothered with mosquitoes stand up make better time and dressed to suit the weather. Let easier painting than on the old photo subjects in trying to put life into the subjects.
Sincerely C. M. C. M.
